GERMANS CAPTURE BREST-LITOVSK, GREAT FORTRESS

Most Powerful Individual Stronghold in Russia,
120 Miles East of Warsaw, Surrenders
When Teutons Enter Central Works After Storming Strong Positions on the Northwestern and Western Fronts.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—A German submarine has been destroyed near Ostend, Belgium, by a bomb dropped by an aeroplane. Official announcement to this effect was made here today.

BERLIN, by wireless to Sayville, N. Y., Aug. 26.—The Russian fortress of Brest-Litovsk has been captured by Teutonic forces. Announcement to this effect was made today by the German Army Headquarters.

German and Austro-Hungarian troops stormed the works on the western and northwestern front and succeeded last night in entering the center fortress. The Russians, the statement adds, then gave up the fortress.

Brest-Litovsk Most Powerful Individual Stronghold in Russia.

The Russian fortress of Brest-Litovsk had been considered one of the strongest fortresses in Europe and was the southern base of the second Russian line of defense to which the armies of Grand Duke Nicholas retreated after the fall of Warsaw. The citadel is situated on the Bug River and at the junction of several railways, 131 miles east of Grodno and 120 miles east of the Polish capital.

The storming of Brest-Litovsk by the Teutonic forces is probably the most important military achievement since the fall of Warsaw, three weeks ago today. The town, which had a population of about 60,000, was one of the most important depots for military supplies near the western frontier of Russia proper. The fortress was rated by military critics as a much more important strategic point than Warsaw.

Brest-Litovsk is situated at the junction of the Bug and Mkhovets Rivers and the fortress of the city was built at the point of confluence. It lies upon the right bank of the Bug, where the river turns from the north to the northeast. Intersecting here are railroads from Odessa, Kiev, Moscow, Warsaw, Vilna and East Prussia.

Brest-Litovsk, according to information compiled by the National Geographic Society, contained one of the oldest important fortresses in Northern Europe. The older fortifications were erected about one mile east of Brest-Litovsk and had a circumference of four miles.

The Russian line of defense, upon which the defenders of Brest-Litovsk, Warsaw, Ivanograd, Novogorodsk and Grodno are compelled to retreat, runs through the middle of the country known as White Russia. The line begins on the north at Riga on the Baltic, and follows the Dvina River to Duena, then turns south and follows the railroad through Vilna, Lida, Baranovitch, the line then runs through tractless swamps of Pinsk and the Pripiet River to Rovno, which lies 120 miles northeast of the Galician capital, Lemberg.

The German destroyer was more powerful than the French, the dispatch states, and the commander of the French boat asked for wireless for assistance. He did not wait for the arrival of help, however, but engaged the German craft. The French boat fired first and scored a hit. She then launched a torpedo, which sank her adversary.

After the first shot took effect the damaged German vessel sailed toward Ostend, where a German coast battery fired at the pursuing destroyer, but succeeded only in preventing the rescue by the French destroyer of the crew of the sinking German boat.

A French torpedo boat, which replied to the destroyer's call for help, arrived only in time to see the German vessel go down.

MEMBER OF VEREIN HELD IN CASE OF PASTOR'S MURDER

Prisoner Says He Was in Fight
Night That Minister Was Killed in Gary, Ind.

DISSENSION IN CHURCH

Lynching Threat Said to Have Been Received by Kayser the Night He Was Shot.

GARY, Ind., Aug. 26.—With the arrest today of George Schneider, a member of the Gary Verein, in connection with the murder of the Rev. Edmund Kayser, whose body was found Tuesday night near his parsonage in Tolleston, a suburb, the police announced that they virtually had abandoned the theory that the German pastor might have been slain because of his pro-German utterances. Schneider's face was cut and bruised. He is said to have told a relative he was in a fight Tuesday night. The police pronounced his story unsatisfactory. "Schneider answers the description of the man we have been looking for," Chief of Police Helms said.

Tells of Overhearing Plot.

Two women whose names were withheld by the police, were brought into the case today. One of the women told the police that when visiting the grave of a child in the German cemetery near the Kaiser home Tuesday night, she came upon a woman and four men talking together. She said she overheard them plotting the murder of the pastor. At one stage, she said, the five flipped a coin, apparently to decide who should perform certain tasks in connection with the attack on the pastor.

Chief of Police Helms said the woman alleged to have taken part in the plot had disappeared from her home. Concerning the eavesdropper's story he said his men had followed it up and found the footprints of a woman and four men in that part of the cemetery where the eavesdropper said she had seen the plotters.

Schneider has been a member of the murdered minister's congregation at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Tolleston, but is declared to have been his enemy. The Rev. Mr. Kayser, it is said, had incurred the displeasure of members of the Saxon Verein because of his opposition to plans of that organization.

The Saxon Verein, an organization in which many members of his congregation are said to have been interested, had raised a considerable fund. According to a story given credence in the vicinity of the murder, Kayser demanded the money for the church. This, it is said, was denied. Kayser was the head of the land syndicate in which members of the organization had invested to a large extent. He is said to have acquired a deed of his residence, worth $6000, although it was built with funds of the church. He is said to have brought to Tolleston an anonymous telephone call composed his congregation.

Threatened With Lynching.

August Schults and his wife, members of Kayser's church, who discovered the body, talked with the pastor an hour before he was found murdered. He declared then, they say, that he had just received an anonymous telephone call informing him that he would be lynched, but that that sort of warning had become so common that it had ceased to cause him alarm.

"I have four enemies," Kayser is said to have told his callers, "and they are the ones I am afraid of. And, if I have trouble with them it will be because of my private affairs. I am not afraid of anything happening because of my political opinions."

Kayser was shot in the chest as he sat in his library by persons on the outside standing in the dark, the police believe. When he staggered to the doorway to grapple with his assailants he was shot again this time the bullet entering the jugular vein and

DIKE BROKE, CANAL OFFICIAL'S EUCRE GAME WENT ON

East St. Louis Mayor Charges
Drainage Commissioner With Indifference in Flood.

REFUSED TO LEAVE BAR

Frank Payer Says It Was "Too
Muddy," and Commissioner
Had No Money Anyway.

As an aftermath of the flood through which portions of East St. Louis have just passed, Mayor Mollman today criticized the inactivity of commissioners of Drainage District No. 1, who were in charge of the drainage canal in which the dike broke and flooded Lansdowne.

Commissioner Frank Payer, the Mayor said, was too busy playing euchre in a saloon last Sunday night to come out and visit the flood district with him.

In contrast to the commissioner's activity, the Mayor pointed out that he himself had left his sick bed to visit the broken dike and see what steps should be taken to remedy the flood situation.

Mayor Mollman, after working in the rain, directing the rescue by boats of residents in flooded sections, went in search of the drainage commissioners. He drove to Tom Reay's saloon, in Edgewater, where he had been told Commissioner Payer could be found.

The Mayor waited in an automobile while a messenger went into the saloon and told the drainage commissioner that the Mayor wanted to see him. The commissioner, however, did not have any money to do anything with, and that besides it was too muddy to work on the canal.

He said he sent word that anything the Mayor did would be all right. The commissioner refused to leave the saloon, saying that the commissioner did not have any money to do anything with, and that besides it was too muddy to work on the canal.

CHANCELLOR VON BETHMANN-HOLLWEG.

ELEVATOR KILLS WOMAN WORKER, 40 YEARS IN STORE

Seamstress, 76 Years Old, Is Struck by Gate in Shaft at
J. Kennard & Sons.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Hamilton, 75 years old, of 2446 Shenandoah avenue, died in Barnes Hospital yesterday afternoon a few hours after her jaw and several ribs were fractured by a door in the building of J. Kennard & Sons Carpet Co., Fourth street and Washington avenue, where she had been employed for 40 years. An undertaker today brought to the coroner's office a death certificate signed by a doctor at Barnes Hospital and the coroner's office has called upon the police to make a report of the case of which the police had not learned of until the death certificate was presented.

J. B. Kennard said to a reporter that Mrs. Hamilton had been in the employ of the firm as a seamstress until about a year ago when she ended her 40 years of continuous service with the firm, but had returned for temporary work to meet the rush of fall trade.

The elevator is one used for employees in what is known as the Annex at the southwest corner of the building. The elevator has a gate that falls and rises as the elevator passes a floor. Kennard said that as nearly as could be learned, Mrs. Hamilton was looking into the elevator shaft as the gate came up and struck her, first striking her body and then her jaw. Emergency treatment was given her in the store and she was then sent to Barnes Hospital. The accident occurred about noon. Her death was at 4:30 p. m.

Kennard said that Mrs. Hamilton probably was the oldest employee of the firm.

Mrs. Hamilton is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Thomas Scully and Mrs. Jacob Meyer. The funeral will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday from her residence. Burial will be in Bellefontaine cemetery.

FRANCE WILL END MARTIAL LAW

PARIS, Aug. 26.—Martial law will be abolished everywhere in France outside of the zone of military activity after Sept. 1. The decision of the Government in this respect is interpreted on all sides as a sign of confidence in official circles that the interior administration of France will not be disturbed again by military operations.

Police officials, whose prerogatives have been somewhat confused during the period of military rule, show great satisfaction at the removal of all danger of conflict of authority and at the possibility of pursuing reconstructive measures.

GERMANY REPORTED READY TO GRANT AMERICAN DEMANDS

Chancellor Intimates That U-Boat
Commander Exceeded Instructions in the Arabic Case.

POLICY ADOPTED DESIGNED TO SETTLE SEA PROBLEM

Ambassador Bernstorff Confers for an Hour With Secretary Lansing—Washington Officials

Believe Friendly Relations Will Not Be Broken.

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, via London, Aug. 26.—The Associated Press is in a position to state today on the best of authority that the Arabic incident may be considered as eliminated as a source of discord between Germany and America; or, at least, is regarded by the German Government in that light. Moreover, Germany, in its desire to continue its friendly relations with the United States, had adopted before the sinking of the Arabic a policy designed to settle completely the whole submarine problem as affecting America, on the basis of good will and mutual understanding.

This is shown clearly by the statement of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg last night to The Associated Press, particularly by his concluding remark to the effect that not until all the circumstances in connection with the sinking of the Arabic had been cleared up would it be possible to say "whether the commander of one of our submarines went beyond his instructions," in which case Germany would give complete satisfaction to the United States. Furthermore, during the conversation, the Chancellor twice again referred to the instructions given to submarine commanders. He did not specify in detail the nature of these instructions, but it may be said that they are designed to prevent a repetition of the Lusitania case and to provide the opportunity for escape for American non-combatants upon torpedoed ships, which the United States desires.

Ample Reparation Will Be Offered.

Having given these instructions, Germany asked suspension of judgment on the Arabic case until the facts were ascertained, being confident it will be shown that the sinking of the vessel was not an unprovoked attack without warning by a German submarine, but was attributed either to a mine explosion or to some action of the vessel itself.

Should it develop, however, that a submarine acted contrary to instructions, ample reparation will be offered.

Germany still is unable to understand why Americans in these troubled times travel on belligerent ships, instead of taking American or other neutral steamers, but since they, in some instances, insist upon taking passage on vessels belonging to belligerents, Germany will do its utmost to provide for their safety.

It is not permissible to quote remarks made by the Chancellor in the course of the conversation, other than the formal statement which he made. It may be said, however, that Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg showed genuine interest in the state of feeling in the United States concerning the sinking of the Arabic, and expressed the hope that the American people would not form an opinion on the basis of conflicting statements giving only one side of the story. He spoke with emphasis of Germany's desire to maintain the friendship of America.

Statement Made by German Chancellor.

This is the statement which the Chancellor made to the Associated Press correspondent last evening:

"As long as the circumstances surrounding the sinking of the Arabic have not been fully cleared up, it is impossible for me to make a definite statement. Thus far we have received no report about it. Nor do we not even know whether the sinking of the ship was caused by a mine or by a torpedo, fired from a German submarine, nor do we know whether in this latter case the Arabic herself may not by her actions perhaps have justified proceedings of the commander of the submarine. Only after all these circumstances have been cleared up will it be possible to say whether the commander of one of our submarines went beyond his instructions, in which case the Imperial Government would not hesitate to give such complete satisfaction to the United States as would conform to the friendly relations existing between both governments."

The Chancellor appeared to be in good health and spirits, and greatly encouraged by the successes achieved by the Germans in the eastern campaign. The interview necessarily was of short duration, as the Chancellor was hurrying away for a conference with Emperor William at his field headquarters.

Indications were noticeable yesterday of a belief that a moderate amount of optimism regarding the Arabic case was well justified and that a way would be found out of the entanglement, even should it be established that the steamer was torpedoed without warning—an assumption which the government has, as yet, in the absence of any official report on the subject no reason to accept.

The newspapers and the public seem hardly to have awakened to the nature of the situation and between the divergent views of Theodore Roosevelt and W. J. Bryan, which were given today, find little enlightenment regarding the real state of American public opinion. The Foreign Office, however, evidently is fully aware of the delicate nature of the situation and is disposed to avoid a crisis, which is furthered by its desire.

The London Daily Telegraph's New York dispatch asserting that it is the determination of Washington to recall its Ambassador and to convene Congress to consider the mobilization of its army and navy if Germany does not discover the torpedoing of the Arabic, was published yesterday, but the Berlin newspapers printed it inconspicuously and without comment, evidently with a desire not to excite public opinion. Some of the newspapers even refrained, altogether from publishing the item.

Only Count von Reventlow, the naval aide of the Tageblatt, breaks loose from restraint with regard to the Arabic. He declares it is utterly inadvisable that the Government should any

GREAT FOUNDATIONS ARE A MENACE, U. S. SHOULD CURB THEM, SAYS MANLY REPORT

Industrial Commission Also Recommends That Picket, Boycott and Other Weapons of Labor Disputes Be Legalized.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—The third and final section of the summary of the Manly report of the United States Commission on Industrial Relations was made public here today. In a few days the special reports on the Colorado strike and the structural iron workers will be given out.

The final summary of the Manly report is devoted principally to the Rockefeller foundation and to the methods pursued by larger corporations in maintaining espionage and in refusing to deal with labor unions. It was adopted by Chairman Walsh and Commissioners Lennon, O'Connell and Garretson, the three last named representing the employees on the commission.

"The Rockefeller Foundations' entrance into the field of industrial relations, through the creation of a special division," the report says, "constitutes a menace to the national welfare to which the attention not only of Congress, but of the entire country, should be directed. Backed by the $200,000,000 of the Rockefeller Foundation, this movement has the power to influence the entire country in the determination of its vital policy."

Rockefeller is charged with planning to utilize literature which was known to him at the time to be untrue and misleading in a so-called "union educational campaign."

There is developing, says the report, a degree of control over the teaching of professors in our colleges and universities which constitutes a most serious menace.

Congress is urged to enact a statute providing that all incorporated non-profit-making bodies, whose present charters empower them to perform more than a single specific function and whose funds exceed $100,000, shall be compelled to obtain a Federal charter.

The charter, it is urged, should contain provisions limiting the funds, definitely and exactly specifying the powers, providing rigid inspection of finance, providing complete publicity, and providing that no line of work not specifically mentioned in the articles of incorporation shall be entered upon without the unanimous consent and approval of the Board of Trustees, nor unless Congress is directly informed of such intention.

Congress is further urged to make provision for a thorough investigation of all endowed institutions, both secular and religious, whose property holdings or income exceeds a moderate amount.

The third recommendation touching upon the work of foundations is that governmental activity along the lines of education and social service should be increased as the only effective means of counteracting the influence of the foundations.

"A careful and conservative study," says the report, "shows that the corporations controlled by six financial groups control 23 per cent of the total number of wage earners engaged in the industries covered by the report of our investigation. The Morgan-First National Bank group alone controls corporations employing 75,400 wage earners."

"The domination by the men in whose hands the final control of a large part of American industry rests is not limited to their employees, but is being rapidly extended to control the education and 'social service' of the nation.

Domination Being Extended.

"This control is being extended largely through the creation of enormous privately managed funds for indefinite purposes, hereinafter designated 'foundations,' by the endowment of colleges and universities, by the creation of funds for the pensioning of teachers, by contributions to private charities, as well as through controlling or influencing the public press.

"Two groups of the 'foundations,' namely, the Rockefeller and Carnegie Foundations, together have funds amounting to at least $500,000,000, yielding an annual revenue of at least $15,000,000, which is at least twice as great as the appropriations of the Federal Government for similar purposes, namely, education and social service.

"The funds of these foundations are exempt from taxation, yet during the lives of the founders are subject to their dictation for any purpose other than commercial profit. In the case of the Rockefeller group of foundations, the absolute control of the funds and of the activities of the institutions now and in perpetuity rests with Mr. Rockefeller, his son, and whomever they may appoint as their successors.

"The purpose of Mr. Rockefeller to influence the public press is clearly shown by the employment of an experienced publicity expert as a member of his personal staff, and is indicated by his evident interest in the ownership or control of a number of publications, of which we have records dating from the inquiry of his secretary regarding the Pueblo Star Journal in May, 1912, to the extensive conferences regarding a loan of $125,000 to finance the National Business, the organ of the National Chamber of Commerce, which was established and given a semi-official status through the instrumentalities of the Secretary of Commerce and Labor with the sanction of a former President of the United States."

Extent of Influence.

"The extent of the possible influence of these foundations and private endowments of institutions for education and public service is shown by a large amount of evidence in the possession of the commission. The following examples may be cited:

"(a) The adoption of a definite line of policy by the Bureau of Municipal Research of New York to meet the conditions imposed by Mr. Rockefeller in connection with proposed contributions.

"(b) The abandonment by several colleges and universities of sectarian affiliations and charter clauses relating to religion in order to secure endowments from the Carnegie Corporation and pensions for professors from the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. It would seem conclusive that if an institution will willingly abandon its religious affiliations through the influence of these foundations, it will even more easily conform to their will any other part of its organization or teaching.

"Apart from these foundations, there is developing a degree of control over the teachings of professors in our colleges and universities which constitutes a most serious menace. In June of this year two professors, known throughout their professions as men of great talent and high character, were dropped from the positions they had occupied and no valid reason for such action was made public. Both were witnesses before the commission, and made statements based upon their own expert knowledge and experience. One was a professor of law in a state university, who had acted as counsel for the strikers in Colorado; the other a professor of economics, who had not only been active in fights in behalf of child labor legislation and other progressive measures, but had recently published a work comparing the income paid for property ownership with the income paid for all classes of service.

Commission Says Great Foundations Are Menace to U.S.

Coal Operators in Control.
"In the case of the state university, we know that the coal operators in conjunction with other business interests had gained the ascendancy and exercised a degree of control over the former Governor of the State, that the coal operators were bitterly opposed to the professor in question, and that the dismissal of the professor had been publicly urged by the operators upon numerous occasions, and we have the undisputed statement of the professor that he had been warned that if he testified before the commission he would not be reappointed. In the case of the professor in the other university (which, though privately endowed, receives large appropriations from the state) we know that its trustees are interested in corporations which have bitterly opposed progressive legislation, and are men whose incomes are derived from property ownership and not from service." Discussing the legal status of trade unions and the law relating to industrial disputes, the report says:

"The general effect of the decisions of American courts has been to restrict the activities of labor organizations and deprive them of their most effective weapons, namely, the boycott and the power of picketing, while on the other hand the weapons of employers, namely, the power of arbitrary discharge, of blacklisting, and of bringing in strike breakers, have been maintained and legislative attempts to restrict the employers' powers have generally been declared unconstitutional by the courts. Furthermore, an additional weapon has been placed in the hands of the employers by many courts in the form of sweeping injunctions, which render punishable acts which would otherwise be legal, and also result in effect in depriving the workers of the right to jury trial.

"Important steps have been taken to deal with this situation by the enactment of the Clayton act, applying to the Federal jurisdiction, and by the passage of laws in Massachusetts and New York which define the rights of parties engaged in industrial disputes."

British Law a Model.
"There are, apparently, only two lines of action possible: First, to restrict the rights and powers of the employers to correspond in substance to the powers and rights now allowed to trade unions, and second, to remove all restrictions which now prevent the freedom of action of both parties to industrial disputes, retaining only the ordinary civil and criminal restraints for the preservation of life, property and the public peace. The first method has been tried repeatedly, and has failed absolutely. The only method, therefore, seems to be the removal of all restrictions upon both parties, thus legalizing the strike, the lockout, the boycott, the blacklist, the bringing in of strikebreakers, and peaceful picketing. This has been most successfully accomplished by the British trades disputes act, which is the result of 50 years of legal evolution, and in its present form seems to work as successfully as could possibly be expected."

"The commission devoted a great deal of attention to the question of a state constabulary as a method of policing industry," the report continues. "Extensive investigations of the organization, personnel, and activities of the Pennsylvania State Constabulary were made. It is an extremely efficient force for crushing strikes, but it is not successful in preventing violence in connection with strikes, in maintaining the legal and civil rights of the parties to the dispute, nor in protecting the public. On the contrary, violence seems to increase rather than diminish when the constabulary is brought into an industrial dispute."

"There are certain features of the State police system, however, which seem to be preferable to the present haphazard methods of policing strikes. It is desirable, first, that all kinds of police should receive their entire compensation from the State. Second, an organized force, whose records are known, is preferable both to the private police of corporations and to the deputized ordinary sworn in by Sheriff. Third, it is desirable that the force should be strictly disciplined and subject to definite orders. Fourth, it is desirable that those in command of any police force should have a reasonably secure tenure of office and should have had previous experience under similar circumstances."

Free Speech Should Be Allowed.
"One of the greatest sources of social unrest and bitterness has been the attitude of the police toward public speaking."

"Not only should every barrier to the freedom of speech be removed, as long as it is kept within the bounds of decency and as long as the penalties for libel can be invoked, but every reasonable opportunity should be afforded for the expression of views and the public criticism of social institutions."

To remove the causes which lead to violence and to promote the impartial and effective action of police during disputes, these recommendations are made, among others:

"The enactment by Congress of a statute prohibiting, under severe penalties, the transportation of men from state to state, either under arms or for the purpose of arming them as guards or as agents either of employers or of employees."

"The enactment by Congress of a statute prohibiting the shipment in interstate commerce of cannon, gassing guns and other guns of similar character, which are not capable of personal use, when consigned to anyone except military agencies of the state or Federal Government."

"The regulation or prohibition of private detective agencies and private employment agencies as heretofore suggested."

"The strict enforcement in all public and private employment offices of the rules requiring full notice of the existence of a strike."

"The complete assumption by the states and municipalities of the responsibility for policing, and the prohibition of the maintenance of any private police (except a limited number of watchmen without police power except on premises)."

Discussing methods and policies of trade unions, the report says:

"The investigations of the commission, conducted under the direction of Dr. George H. Barnett, are the basis of the following conclusions:

"The number of trade unionists relative to the working population is steadily increasing, although in certain industries, on account of the opposition of the great corporations and employers' associations, trade unionism is practically nonexistent. At present it may be roughly estimated that in manufacturing, mining, transportation and the building industries, if the proprietary, supervisory, official and clerical classes are excluded, 5 per cent of the workers of years of age and over are trade unionists."

"The effects of trade unionism on wages are undoubted. Without some form of combination the wage workers cannot bargain on equal terms with their employers. During the last 15 years, a period of rapidly rising prices, wages in well organized trades have kept pace with the rising cost of living, in contrast to the relative decline of the purchasing power of the wages received by labor generally."

NOTE—All charge purchases made Saturday and the remainder of this month will be charged on the September bill, payable October 1st.

Five Men Held After Lynching.
HALLETTSVILLE, Tex., Aug. 28.—Five men are under arrest here today in connection with the investigation into the lynching of John Slovak at Shiner Tuesday. Slovak, who had been arrested charged with beating his wife and child, was taken from jail and beaten and shot to death.

When you wash your hair, don't use soap. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is just plain, unscented coconut oil. It is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats soap or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months. After washing the hair with water, rub it in, about a tablespoonful, and all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, frisky looking, and bright. It's very easy and so simple. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—ADV.

Grey Defends Belgium Against German Charges

Isolated sentence which he quotes will be obvious to anyone who reads the full context of the speech.

"As to the other statement attributed to me, not even when we were perfectly free, when Japan, who was our ally, had not entered the war, and when we were not pledged to the other allies as we are now by the agreement of the 8th of September, 1914, did I say anything so ridiculous or untrue, that it was in the interests of Germany that we had gone to war and with the object of restraining Russia.

"War Would Have Been Averted."

"The war would have been averted if the conference had been agreed to. Germany, on the filmstrip pretext, shut the door against us. I would seek nothing on the point of form and expressed myself ready to acquiesce in any method of mediation that Germany could suggest if mine were not acceptable. I said I was ready to co-operate in any method Germany thought possible, if only Germany would press the button in the interest of peace.

"The German Chancellor, according to his speech, encouraged nothing except direct discussion between Vienna and Petrograd. But what chance had that of success when, as we heard afterward, the German Ambassador at Vienna was expressing the opinion that Russia would stand aside and was conveying to his colleagues the impression that he desired war from the first, and his strong personal bias probably colored his action there."

"Some day, perhaps, the world will know what really passed between Germany and Austria respecting the ultimatum to Serbia and its consequences. It has become only too apparent that the proposal for the conference, which we made and which Russia, Italy and France agreed to, and which Germany vetoed, lay the only hope of peace. And it was a good hope.

"Serbia and the Ultimatum."

"Serbia had accepted nearly all the Austrian ultimatum, severe and violent as it was. The point outstanding could have been settled honorably and fairly in conference in a week. Germany ought to have known, and must have known, that we should take the same straight and honorable part in it that she herself recognized we had taken in the Balkan conference, working not for a diplomatic victory of the group, but for a fair settlement, and ready to side against any attempt to exploit the conference unfairly to the disadvantage of Germany and Austria."

"The refusal of the conference by Germany, though it did not decide British participation in the war, did in fact decide the question of peace or war for Europe, and signed the death warrants of many hundreds of thousands who have been killed in this war."

"Nor must it be forgotten that the Emperor of Russia proposed to the German Emperor that the Austro-Serb dispute should be settled by The Hague Tribunal. Is there one candid soul in Germany and Hungary who looking back on the past year, does not regret that neither the British nor the Russian proposal was accepted?"

"An Iron Peace" Under Germany.

"And what is the German program as we gather it from the speech of the Chancellor and the public utterances in Germany now—Germany to control the destiny of all other nations, to be the 'shield of peace and freedom of big and small nations.' Those are the Chancellor's words—an iron peace and a freedom under the Prussian shield, under German supremacy, Germany supreme."

"Germany alone would be free to break international treaties, free to crush when it pleased her, free to refuse all mediation, free to go to war when it suited her, free when she did go to war to break again all rules of civilization and humanity on land and sea; and while she may act thus all her commerce at sea is to remain as free in time of war as all commerce is in time of peace."

"Freedom of the Sea."

"Freedom of the sea may be a very reasonable subject for discussion, definition and agreement between the nations after this war, but not by itself alone; not while there is no freedom and no security against war and German methods of war on land. If there are to be guarantees against future war, let them be equal, comprehensive and effective guarantees that bind Germany as well as other nations, including ourselves."

"Germany is to be supreme. The freedom of other nations is to be that which Germany makes out to them. Such is apparently the conclusion to be drawn from the German Chancellor's speech, and to this the German Minister of Finance adds that the heavy burden of thousands of millions must be borne through decades, not by Germany, but by those whom she is pleased to call the instigators of the war. In other words, for decades to come Germany claims that all the nations who resisted her should labor to pay her tribute in the form of indemnity."

"Not such terms as peace be concluded, or the life of other nations than Germany be free or even tolerable. The speeches of the German Chancellor and Finance Minister make it appear that Germany is fighting for supremacy and tribute. If that is so, and as long as it is so, our allies and we are fighting and must fight for the right to live, not under German supremacy, but in real freedom and safety."

How to Wave Hair to Appear Naturally Curly

You won't need to resort to the painful, scorching curling iron if you will adopt the simple plan I will mention. Isn't that good news?

At night merely apply a little liquid astringent with a clean toothbrush, sweeping this through the hair from root to tip. This will impart a delightful wavy appearance and a bright luster suggestive of "hidden sunshine." It will prove beneficial to the hair, instead of making it brittle and dead-looking as the hot iron does. In the morning, instead of your tresses being moss and contrary, you will find them quite easy to do up in any form, and there will be no unpleasant odor, grease or stickiness about the hair. Would you suggest that you ask your druggist for the liquid astringent—four or five ounces—which will require no rinsing, and you can pour a little into a saucer when required. You won't need to use this at frequent intervals, by the way, because the curls last many days—Really Curious Hygienic Hair—ADV.

ST. LOUISANS TAKE GOLF HONORS AT WEQUESTONING

Sterling E. Edmunds Wins Championship Cup for Sixth Time; Lawson Watt Runner Up.

Special to the Post-Dispatch, Aug. 26.—As a finish to the most successful golf season Wequestoning ever has seen, and in which St. Louisans, as usual, took most of the honors, Sterling E. Edmunds of St. Louis won the championship cup for the sixth consecutive year of two of those much-coveted trophies. Lawson Watt, also of St. Louis, won runner-up honors, finally losing out by a score of 2 up and 1 to go. Watt holds 14 cups and two medals. Luck was with Edmunds, for, when, on the tenth hole, he drove his ball into the woods, it struck a tree and bounded back onto the green.

In Class A, W. B. Hunt of St. Louis defeated Thomas R. Collins of St. Louis, 2 up and 1 to go. In Class B, N. J. Albright of Chicago bested T. S. McPherson of St. Louis in the final, 4 up and 3 to go. In the final for Class C, M. C. Evans of Columbus, O., won over H. H. Evans of Cincinnati, 3 up and 4 to go; and M. H. Smith of Louisville took the final in the surprise class from Dr. A. J. Alexander of Springfield Station, Ky., 6 up and 4 to go.

Play On for Rivalry Cup.
Play is on now for the Rivalry Cup, presented by John D. Edwards Jr., George M. and Dr. Amund Ravid, four St. Louis men who each summer at their beautiful Ni-Ni-Mo-Sha cottage. The Ravidos have entertained much this summer, one of the features in prospect being a picnic on the spacious Ni-Ni-Mo-Sha grounds to be given by Miss Estelle Ravid.

Other Missourians who played in the championship contests were Charles H. Zebig, Douglas Zebig, W. B. Hunt, D. R. Calhoun, R. J. Jones, W. H. Barnett, C. E. Bascom, G. R. Hunt, T. F. Fowler, T. C. Harris, Oscar Fenley, J. S. McIntyre, St. Louis; Frank J. Dean, B. N. Simpson, H. E. Mintz, W. W. Goode, M. A. Foster, E. O. Bragg, Kansas City; J. H. McCord Jr., St. Joseph.

Mrs. E. H. Steedman of St. Louis has demonstrated her superiority over all women comers on the golf course. She took the championship, defeating in the final her sister, Miss Florence McNelly of Philadelphia, 5 up and 4 to go. The sisters then donated a beautiful cup as a sort of consolation to the losers. This handicap was won by Miss Florence McNelly of Philadelphia, who was allowed to Bradley of Chicago, who was allowed to 15 strokes, and whose actual score was 100. The lowest score was 86, made by Mrs. Sterling E. Edmunds.

Mrs. Thomas R. Collins, Mrs. Arthur Heidrick, Miss Elsie Zebig, Mrs. W. G. Pettus and Miss Elizabeth Cooke of St. Louis also played in the women's championships. In the men's and women's championships more than 100 entered from all parts of the country.

Other St. Louisans often seen on the Wequestoning golf course this season are: Anna Wright Benoit, Miss Marjorie Brown, I. F. Boyd, G. K. Battle, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo E. Church, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cooke, Luther H. Conn, Miss E. Doster, Miss Emily Eaton, T. F. Fowler, Lewis D. Doster Jr., Gerold Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Hamann, T. C. Harris, Miss Elizabeth Halliday, R. Jewett Jones, Miss Eleanor Kinney, Carl H. Langenberg, W. G. Lackey, J. F. Miller, Edmund S. Manny, E. A. Manny, Miss Madell, Mrs. Charlton Mesick, Mrs. D. C. Nugent, Miss Matilda Overton, Miss Elizabeth Overton, A. W. Niedringham, Mrs. W. G. Pettus, M. C. Post Jr., Miss Letitia Parker, R. E. Perry, Charles F. Pettus, Mrs. Oliver F. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lansing Ray, Charles Scudder, Miss Lucile Seidmore, Mrs. George H. Shields Jr., George P. Spear, S. Stickney, Bishop D. S. Tuttle, David Tuttle, George and Douglas Zebig.

Many Social Functions.
But it is not in golf alone that St. Louis leads at Wequestoning and the smaller resorts which skirt the northern shore of Little Traverse Bay. Social functions of all sorts have helped pass the hours. Mrs. J. L. D. Morrison of St. Louis has been a leader and has entertained lavishly. Among scores of St. Louisans seen at her functions have been the Meses, Prewitt, Zebig, Wright, Scudder, Hamann, Nugent, Atkinson, Edmunds, Pappin, Hunt, Thomas and Church and the Meses Booth and Pappin.

Mrs. S. D. Capen, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Battle, Mrs. David Calhoun, Mrs. Benjamin Clark, Mrs. John Waterworth, Mrs. Charles Bascom, Mrs. James Johnson, St. Louis; and Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Bragg of Kansas City also have been to the fore among entertainers.

The little people also have had their parties. At a recent fancy dress dance at the Casino, Miss Martha Pettus, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pettus, whose summer home is on the bay shore here, was "Powder Puff" and was voted "too sweet for anything" in her imported gown of old rose, ermine and swan's down. Her dances were much enjoyed. Little Eugene Edmunds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling E. Edmunds of St. Louis, was a gorgeous butterfly, and Katherine McCluney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. McCluney of St. Louis, was a fairy.

Mrs. Charles Bascom of St. Louis will entertain at dinner Friday and Saturday night. She gave a birthday party and dinner in honor of her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Halliday of St. Louis.

Mrs. C. D. Boll of St. Louis recently gave a cotillion in honor of her daughter, the Misses Aline and Mary Boll, to which friends from every resort on Little Traverse Bay were invited. The St. Louis guests were Gregory Feldman, Roy Siegel, William Griesedlock, Charles Isaacs, Henry Isaacs, and the Meses Emily Isaacs, Katherine Leath and Neva Harsh. Mrs. R. N. Dean and Mr. Bol Albert of Kansas City were chaperones.

Mrs. and Mrs. CHARLES GALLOWAY of 349 Halliday avenue have returned from California, where they visited the expositions and where Mr. Galloway gave a series of five organ recitals on the big organ at the San Francisco fair.

News from New York announces the arrival of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. F. Herbert Filley. Mrs. Filley was Miss Mary Colt, the niece of Mrs. Dwight Filley of St. Louis, under whose chaperonage she made her debut two seasons ago.

Mrs. John B. Slaughter of 614 McPherson avenue has as her guest Miss Martha Witherspoon of Louisville.

Mrs. Charles W. Benedict of the "Lila," Normandy, Mo., and her daughter, Miss Isabel Benedict, are entertaining Miss Lulu Hall and Miss Burthe of New Orleans.

Mrs. Newton Wilson of the Devonshire Apartments, Dr. and Mrs. N. Bruce Carson and their son, William Glasgow Carson, are in Colorado Springs, Colo., for the last of the season and will return next week.

Miss Ida Meiler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albin Meiler of 400 Berlin avenue, has as her guest Mrs. Ed. Humphreys of Louisville, Ky.

Miss Harriette Sherwood Newman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Louis E. Newman of 681 Waterman avenue, has gone to Colorado Springs, Colo., to spend the last of the summer and will remain until late in the fall. Miss Newman's engagement to Moulton Green was announced during the summer.

Dr. and Mrs. Max A. Goldstein of 600 Washington street are spending the summer in Estes Park, Colo., and are expected home the middle of September.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Boehm, 3101 Marquette street, are spending a few weeks at Chicago and Milwaukee.

ONLY FEW APPEAL CASES SUSTAINED BY JUDGE CLARK

Police Court Rulings Upheld in 21 of 295 Actions From
May 3 to Aug. 7.

CITY PAYS THE COSTS

Patrolmen's Failure to Appear Declared to Be Cause of Many Dismissals.

Following the complaint of individuals and organizations against the methods of Judge Ben F. Clark of the Court of Criminal Correction, City Counselor Daves has compiled what he declares to be an astonishing exhibit of the failure of justice in Judge Clark's division of the court.

Out of 295 cases of persons fined in the police courts, who appeared to Judge Clark's court, between May 3 and Aug. 7, which have now been finally disposed of, Daves finds that only 21 resulted in upholding the fines imposed by the police judges. Of these 21, only 5 paid their fines, so that in 236 cases the city was required to bear the whole cost of the proceedings in the lower and higher courts. These costs bills are paid out of general revenue.

Daves' list, in which some of the figures include others, but which shows a total of 286 different cases, is as follows: Dismissed for want of prosecution, 48; tried and discharged, 53; fines stayed on costs, 4; fines stayed on good behavior, 37; fined, 21; fined and execution satisfied, 9; fined and appealed (to Court of Appeals), 3; none prosecuted, 7; dismissed for want of jurisdiction, 10; motion to quash or demurrer sustained (discharged), 4; continued generally, 7; fined and paroled, 2; dismissed on costs, 1.

Beside the foregoing, 12 cases which were appealed during the latter part of the same period are still pending before Judge Clark, not having been disposed of.

Daves said he had found that almost all the 53 dismissals for want of prosecution were due to the failure of policemen to appear. Inquiry showed that deputy sheriffs had served subpoenas on the policemen, not in most cases personally, but by leaving the subpoenas at police stations. This is an old custom, according to Sheriff Dickmann.

The time spent by policemen in testifying in court is usually taken from their recreation periods. In a number of cases policemen have objected to giving their time to appearing in Judge Clark's court, on the ground that the cases are dismissed anyway, and that it is a waste of their time. Such remarks, on the part of policemen, have been reported by officers of the Neighborhood Association, which tried to rid the vicinity of Eighteenth and Morgan streets of an undesirable class of women.

For the seven cases dismissed by an order of nolle prosequi, Judge Clark is not responsible, as under the court procedure the order is made by the City Attorney, who prosecutes appeals in Police Court.

Deducting these and the dismissals for want of prosecution, there remain 154 cases in which Judge Clark has failed to uphold the action of the lower courts, as compared with 21 in which he has upheld it.

Judge Explains Actions. Post-Dispatch reporter today for his explanation of the record compiled by Daves. He replied that he had no objection to criticism based on the correct records of his court. He said the court did not exist to furnish revenue to the city from fines, but to correct, and when necessary, to punish individuals. He added that he had considered each case on its merits, and had disposed of it as seemed right to him.

"If the police judges, particularly Judge Hogan, would use more discretion in imposing fines," Judge Clark said, "the city would not be put to the expense of so many appeals. Take the case of a man fined $200 by Judge Hogan a few days ago, for careless driving. If such a fine was warranted, the case did not belong in Police Court at all."

"I recently said, in Judge Hogan's presence, that he was not using proper discretion as to fines, and I have since noticed a falling off in the number of appeals. Today, which is the weekly appeal day, I see only 18 appeals on my docket, as compared with the 25 or more which I used to have on each appeal day."

Another Case Dismissed. The cases of Frances Dulaney and John Cross of 821 South Eighth street, fined by Judge Hogan on a charge relating to the character of that house, came before Judge Clark on appeal this morning. When Patrolman O'Connell was questioned, it appeared that he did not have personal knowledge of the place, but that Sgt. Spangler did. Spangler was not present and Assistant City Attorney Sadler asked for a continuance, in order to summon him.

"Now, Mr. Sadler," said Judge Clark, "be a man. If you haven't a case here, say so, and dismiss it. Don't be afraid of Mr. Daves."

The Court refused to grant the city a continuance on the ground that the case had already been called for trial, and it was dismissed.

HAIR DRESSING SCHOOL MAN WEDS HIS CHIEF ASSISTANT

MRS. J.A. MOLER.

J. A. Moler, proprietor of the St. Louis School of Hairdressing, at Sixth and Chestnut streets, is conducting his business today without the services of his chief assistant, Miss Florence Tapp, of 3842 Blaine avenue, for the first time in three years.

Moler and Miss Tapp went to Clayton at noon yesterday and were married by Justice of the Peace Stecker, and today Mrs. Moler decided that she preferred to manage the home at 5559 Delmar boulevard to being assistant manager at the office.

Moler said he had frequently urged Miss Tapp to make the trip to Clayton, but that she had refused until a few days ago, when she received word that her sister in Chicago had been married.

WITNESS SAYS HIS WIFE WROTE LOVE NOTES TO SELLECK

Identifies "Girlie" and "Darling"
Letters Sent to Lawyer by Former Client.

A dramatic situation developed in Judge Anderson's court yesterday afternoon, in the hearing of the legal controversy between Ellroy V. Selleck, a lawyer, and his divorced wife, Hazel, for the custody of their daughter, Mary, when Walter Willey, a railway mail clerk of Fort Branch, Ind., identified a dozen love letters which his wife had written to Selleck.

Selleck was attorney for Mrs. Willey in a personal injury suit against the public service corporation of Evansville, Ind. Willey apparently had absolute confidence in his wife, and recently had written letters to Mrs. Selleck declaring that he believed her to be absolutely innocent of any indiscreet relations with her attorney.

When a letter, beginning "My Own Darling," was handed to Willey for identification he asked the Court for permission to read it. The Court denied permission, but he clutched it and attempted to read passages from it as he passed it up to the official stenographer. The letter overflowed with endearing terms.

Desk Was Forced Open. Mrs. Selleck had procured these letters by forcing open Selleck's desk and gave them to John W. Cahoon, her attorney who introduced them in evidence to prove that Selleck was not a proper person to have the custody of a young daughter.

The case was brought into court upon Mrs. Selleck's motion to vacate an order of Court of Aug. 3, 1906, by which Selleck was permitted to see the child from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., Sundays, and from 5 p. m. to 8 p. m., Thursdays. Selleck filed a counter motion, asking for the custody of the child, which Judge Anderson overruled, and then Mrs. Selleck filed another motion asking for absolute custody.

After several letters had been handed to Willey for identification, and he was almost overcome with emotion, he said to Judge Anderson:

"May I not read these letters, Judge?" The Judge informed him that he might not read them while they were being introduced in evidence, but that after they were in evidence he might have that privilege.

Willey testified that he had known Selleck for many years, and that Selleck was his personal attorney, as well as attorney for his wife. When the letters had been introduced, Selleck also made a demand upon the court to read them.

Addressed to His Office. "Would you like to read this one beginning 'Your dear sweet letter was at home when I came in last night,' and ending, 'With all my love and kisses, or this one addressed to 'My darling boy,' by 'Your girlie'?" asked Judge Anderson.

Selleck denied that the letters had been written to him, although the envelopes were addressed to him at his office, 82 Holland Building, and postmarked "Fort Branch, Ind."

The acting Governor said that he believed the selection should be made by Gov. Major.

THOMAS MOORE JOHNSON "MISSOURI'S GREATEST MAN"

Acting Governor Painter Says He Believes Distinction Should Go to Oscarola Writer.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 26.—Thomas Moore Johnson, scholar, linguist, philosopher and magazine writer, of Oscarola, is unquestionably "Missouri's greatest living man," according to acting Gov. William R. Painter, who refused to make the official selection, however, before leaving for his home in Carrollton, today.

Johnson is a son of the late Waldo F. Johnson, who represented Missouri in the Senate of the United States in the '60s.

Johnson is widely traveled and is a linguist. He is thoroughly conversant with the principal languages of the world, and has made a study of the teachings of all the greatest philosophers.

Other prominent Missourians who have been mentioned for the honor in the Panama-Pacific Exposition Hall of Fame, which Gov. Major has been asked to confer, are Judge Walker W. Graves of the Missouri Supreme Court, former Chief Justice Henry Lamm, Senator William J. Stone, Frederick W. Lehman and Champ Clark.

INJURED WOMAN'S BELIEF IN GOLDEN RULE FREES DRIVER

Hotel Housekeeper, in Court on Crutches, Refuses to Prosecute
Jitney Chauffeur.

Mrs. Alpha Godwin, housekeeper at the American Annex Hotel, went into police court on crutches today and re- fused to prosecute Thomas Whiteside of 2500 Allen avenue, a jitney car driver, who ran his car over her left foot at Thirteenth and Locust streets Aug. 12, breaking some of the bones in the foot.

Although another jitney driver, William Knox, was ready to appear as a witness against Whiteside, Mrs. Godwin persisted in her refusal to prosecute. She explained her refusal by saying she believed in the golden rule, "Do unto others as you would that they should do unto you."

"And besides," she added, "it wasn't his fault. The city should put a traffic policeman at Thirteenth and Locust."

Mrs. Godwin said she had been told by a physician that she would be disabled for several weeks. Besides the injury to her foot, she said, her leg was bruised. She rode to court in Whiteside's machine, and he helped her out and took her back to the hotel when the hearing was over.

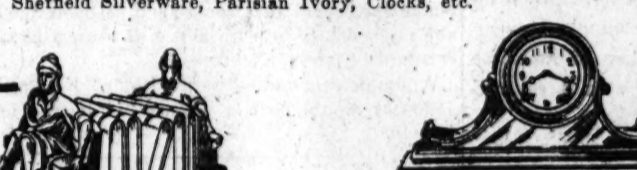

Knox, the other jitney driver, said Whiteside's car ran into his just after the accident to Mrs. Godwin. Whiteside denied this, and said Knox's car ran into his as he was standing still. He said Knox presented a repair bill for $86.75, which he refused to pay. Knox denied this.

The Jarr Family

Written for the Post-Dispatch
By Roy L. McCardell.

Mr. Jarr Wins an Evening's Liberty by Deceptions That Don't Deceive.

MR. JARR was comfortably settled. He had on his old house coat and his slippers and he stretched himself out on the sofa to read the papers after supper. "This is all right," he said. "I tell you, it's the only place after all. Say what you will, it's good to be home!"

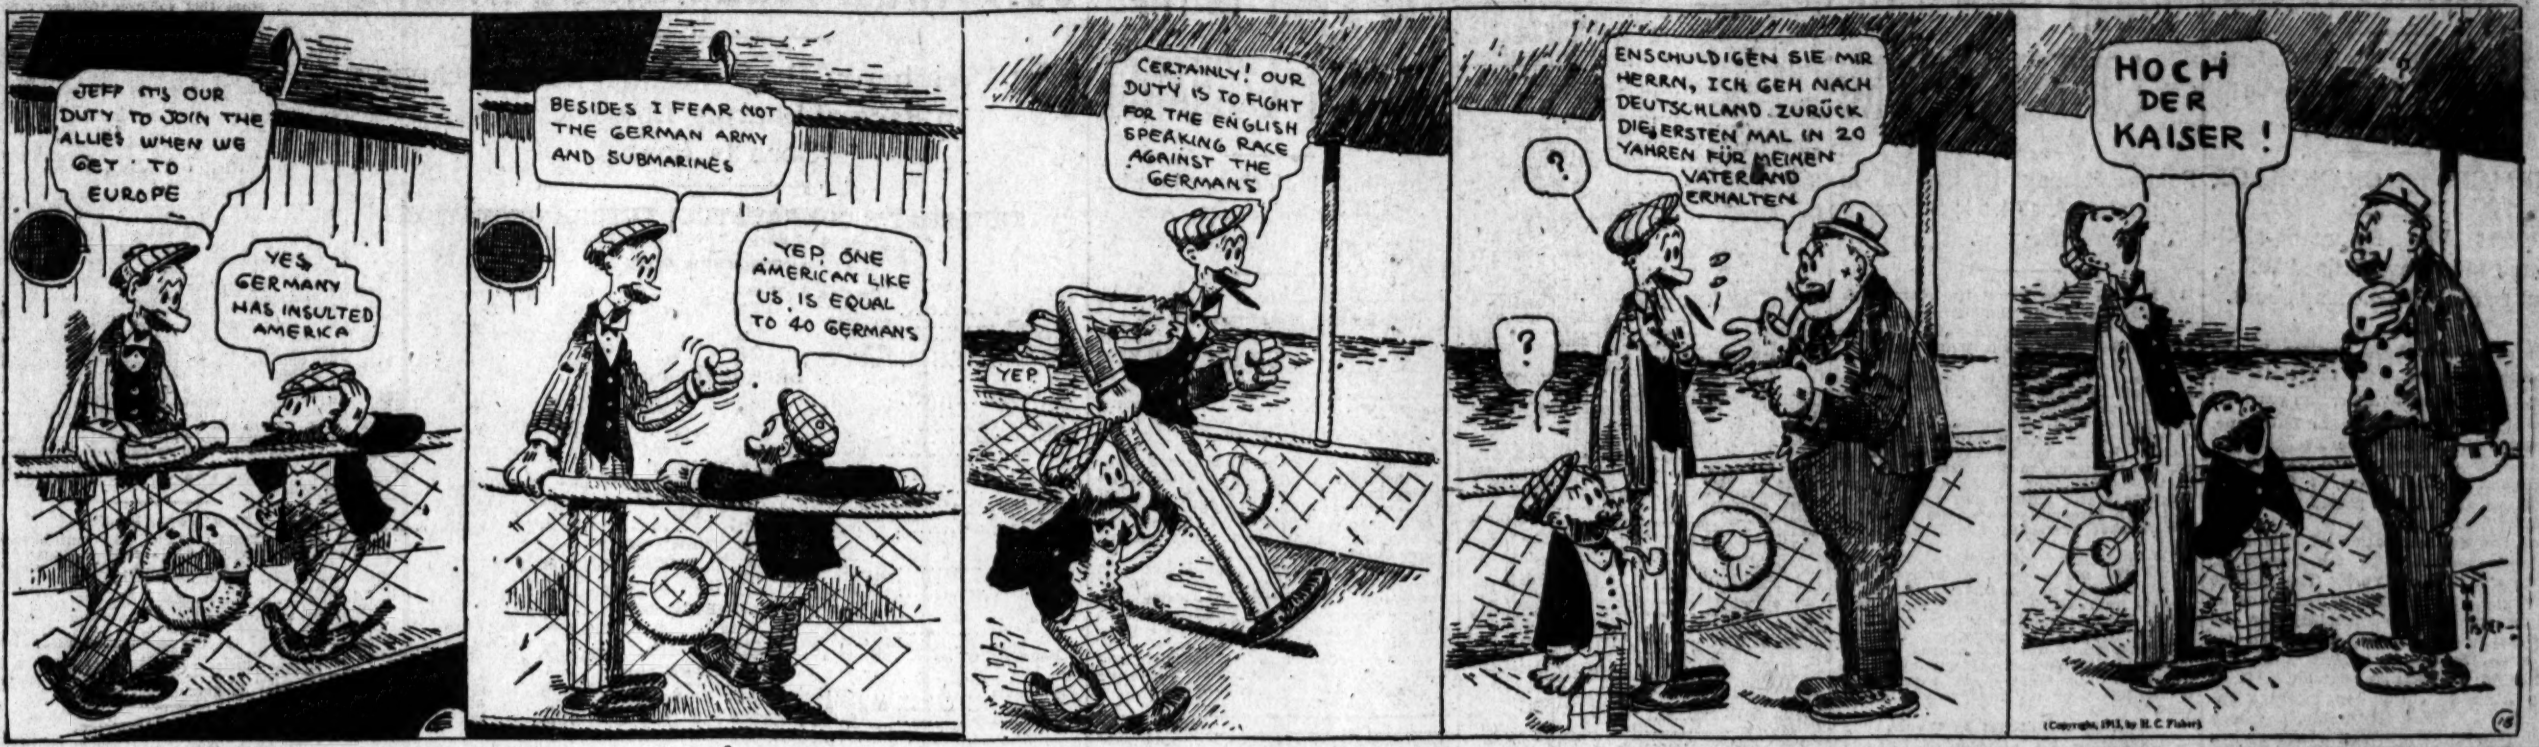

"What pleasure do I derive from your company when, as soon as supper is over, you fall asleep?" asked Mrs. Jarr. "It may do you a lot of good to be home, but what good does it do me?"

"Well, here I am," said Mr. Jarr, "and I'm not going to sleep either. I'm going to make myself comfortable." So saying, he put another pillow under his head.

"And as soon as you are comfortable, you go to sleep," smiled Mrs. Jarr. "But then, so long as you are suited, I presume I should not complain!"

"But you always do complain," retorted Mr. Jarr, who for some strange reason, despite his taking the papers and pillows, appeared to be more anxious to argue than to read, "you always do complain. You complain when I answered Mrs. Jarr. "But, as I said, I won't complain."

It was not Mr. Jarr's purpose to quarrel. But he had a purpose, although he gave no sign, so he looked around the room and sighed in a comforting manner. "Yes, as I was saying," he said. "It's good to be home. I always like to come home. I know you think I do not, but, as a matter of fact, I am home all the time."

Mrs. Jarr sniffed disdainfully, as if this were so wild a statement it wasn't worth contradicting.

"Yes, I am," said Mr. Jarr, taking umbrage at the sniff. "I'm home every night. And I'm home because I want to be home."

"How kind of you!" said Mrs. Jarr. "Well, I'd rather be home than any place else," said Mr. Jarr. "I can lay off and take it easy. And do you know, I'm tired when night comes. My feet ache. I guess I'm getting old."

"Look here, Edward Jarr!" cried Mrs. Jarr, rousing up at this time. "If that's all the reason you come home, just to use it as a rest cure, you can get right out!"

"What?" asked Mr. Jarr. "You can get out," repeated Mrs. Jarr. "If you are only home because you are feeling old and because you ache, you can get out and ache somewhere else. Go to Gus' and ache!"

"Put on my shoes and coat and leave my nice comfortable sofa!" asked Mr. Jarr.

"Exactly," cried Mrs. Jarr, "and while you miss your comfortable sofa, think of the many nights when you didn't ache and weren't tired and weren't getting old and cranky, when you might have come home and didn't!"

"Oh, get out!" laughed Mr. Jarr, as if this were a joke.

"No, YOU get out! I mean it!" said Mrs. Jarr. "If that's all your home is for, you—a rest cure—you get on your things and get out!"

"Go to Gus'!" asked Mr. Jarr. "I don't care where you go," said Mrs. Jarr quietly.

Mr. Jarr got up grumbling; and put off his slippers and house coat. He put on his shoes and other coat and went out. Mr. Rangle met him at the corner.

"I see it worked!" said Rangle, "and it worked at our house. Come on. The pinhole game is waiting for us!" Mrs. Jarr leaned out the window, but not far enough to be seen.

"Guh! I might have known it!" she said.
